INAUGURAL ADDRESS
OF
MAYOR WILLIAM G. BRADLEY.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

I stand here before you this morning for the sixth time as Mayor of the city, with some knowledge at least of the responsibilities of the office. No one more fully realizes than myself the burdens which a proper administration of the office entails upon the incumbent. For not only is the Mayor the head in all its governmental functions, but he is also its chief business manager and financial guardian, for he must be ready at all times to devote his time and energy to the business interests of the city and make himself familiar with the details of all of the several departments, in order to act intelligently.

I wish to thank my fellow citizens for the honor they have shown me and for their expression of confidence, which was so plainly shown by the people in electing me for Mayor with no other candidate in the field.

I regard the expression of confidence on the part of our citizens not so much as a personal tribute as I do as an endorsement of the course I have pursued in the administration of the city affairs the past year, which, I assure you, has been a trying one, which was brought about by the changing of conditions that are continually developing; for whatever a majority demands after a careful consideration of the same must be recognized.

We started out the year of 1907 in a new era, so to speak. The liquor question came to us in a different way than ever before; for the public, so far as the illegal sale of liquor was concerned, said by their vote November 5, 1906, what policy should be carried out, in my mind, and I, as their candidate for Mayor at that time, distinctly stated at the convention what stand I should take on the liquor question, and said I did not want anyone to vote for me without knowing what action I should take if elected, after the city had gone no-license in the November election. The voters, in the face of this statement, still further confirmed what the majority wanted, by electing me for Mayor in one of the hardest political strifes ever held in the city.

And with the co-operation of the City Marshal and his assistants for the year 1907, good results have been obtained, it seems to me, in the suppression of the sale of intoxicating liquors. The same policy will be pursued during 1908. As fast as we can get the evidence that will convict violators, they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

It has been an eventful year for the city of Rochester, in the building of a new city hall, opera house and police station combined, which, when completed, I hope and trust you will be proud of.

You have also laid a new sixteen-inch water main from the reservoir and connected with the twelve-inch main as a feeder, which I will speak of later.

But the getting of all of these things does not end here; for with all of these there also comes an increase of the yearly expense, such as interest money to be paid on the amount borrowed and the extra expense of maintenance each year, and also to provide for paying off some part of the debt, which will be quite a problem for your Committee on Finance to cope with. As to water bonds, I would recommend that the income received from the water be used as fast as it accumulates to buy water bonds, as every bond you buy stops the interest on the same and also at the same time reduces the city debt.

I wish to say just a word in commendation of our City Clerk Department, as I am frank to say that I think Rochester is fortunate in having such an able, faithful and conscientious official as holds the office of City Clerk to-day.

WATER AND DEEP SEWER.

Our water, according to the analyses of the State Chemist of October 30, and again December 9, is very favorable and satisfactory for domestic use. And the past year you have laid a new sixteen-inch water main from the reservoir and connected it with the twelve-inch main which has supplied the city in the past, so that to-day, as shown by the official test on November 2, you are amply provided with water protection against fire, as at that time there were ten streams on at one time from Barker's block to Bridge street, any one of which would have thrown water into the top story of any one of our buildings in the city. We shall now be better able to protect the taxpayers' property and business interests of our city.

The new water main cost the city about $49,000, which is about $10,000 less than the amount anticipated. This speaks well for your Superintendent, Mr. Scruton, as he surveyed, laid out and superintended the entire work to completion with the most satisfactory results.

FINANCES.

This subject is one of the greatest importance to our city, as you all know we are laying out a great deal of money at this time and it will therefore necessitate great care and consideration of all its details by your Committee on Finance.

The following is a statement of the financial condition of our city as shown by its books:

HEALTH.

There is no department where the work is of more importance for the lives and health of our community, than this. It seems to me that this department is very ably handled by our very efficient Board of Health and that nothing is left undone in suppressing contagious diseases from which our city has been very free during the past year. I refer you to the report of the Board of Health.

SCHOOLS.

Our School Department is one of our largest and most expensive departments and it takes the largest appropriation of any.

It also calls for the wisest and most careful management on the part of those in charge, in order that the best possible results may be obtained along the lines of education. For education is the key-note of the coming generation. Never in the history of our country has it been more necessary for the children to have all the advantages possible along the lines of education, as it better fits them to cope with the difficult problems of life that everyone has to meet in one way or another. For further particulars I refer to the report of the School Board which will be printed in the city reports.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The importance of our Public Library is growing yearly in the minds of our citizens, as the increasing attendance in the reading-room and the circulation of books show. We have a beautiful library building now and there is a sense of pride whenever we speak of our library. The Trustees are constantly striving to increase the collection of books and I think the library is ably managed by the Board.

This institution, like our public schools, is an educational one and should receive the constant support of our citizens. For further details I refer you to the report of the Trustees which will be printed in the city report.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

This is a most important one, as they are to maintain good order in the city at all times. And how utterly impossible it is to please everyone, but few people outside of those closely connected with the department realize. The hardest problem it has to solve and deal with is the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors. I will give you a few figures to show how well the officers have done their work the past year.

For 1906, total number of arrests, 400; drunkenness, 360; for 1907, total number of arrests, 187; drunkenness, 118; making 242 less arrests for drunkenness during the year of 1907 than in 1906, notwithstanding you were under a license law from January 1 to May 1, the past year. And the first four months of the year there were forty-seven arrested for drunkenness and the remaining eight months seventy-one arrests were made for drunkenness.

Now the City Marshal and myself have people frequently come to us and say: "They are selling liquor in such a place, we know it, why do you not stop it?" And I have anonymous letters sent me to that effect.

I want to say right here that it is almost impossible to get any citizen to give his assistance along this line further than I have just stated. And in order to convict you must have the strongest evidence. It costs the city about ten dollars for every search made whether you accomplish anything or not.

I am pleased to say that there has been perfect harmony between the Mayor, City Marshal, Assistant Marshal, and, in fact, every officer on the force, and there has been good and efficient work done, and good results obtained, by this department the past year. And when I say that I am proud of the Police Department it is but putting it mildly.

SURFACE SEWER.

In this department there has not been much done the past year, as there was no appropriation for it, but there have been 1,700 feet laid from Winter street to Main, which I think the public in that section will appreciate, for it has needed it for years. There are several places about our city that need some attention along these lines, and I hope to see a little of this work done each year.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

No department of the city should receive more careful attention than the Fire Department, for we look to it and expect protection of our property against fire. We have been very fortunate in the past as regards fire losses, and I am pleased to say that this department is in a better condition to-day to cope with a fire than ever before. You have spent a large amount of money for its equipment and it still needs a few more things to make it complete. The expense of running it keeps creeping up, for with a pair of horses in the fire station at all times, which you have had this year for the first time, it needs about $300, and they are of no use unless you have a man at the station to hitch them at once night or day, which you have had this year. If you have a man there to do nothing else but take care of the house and so forth, that will mean $600 more, but I am in hopes to be able to do the work for this year on about the same lines as it has been done the past year, which will save about $500.

Even after being as economical in every way as it seemed possible to be, this department will cost for the year of 1907, $5,281.79.

In this there was $530 worth of new apparatus purchased, which seemed unavoidable, that I will mention: Torrent Hose Company, a new reel at a cost of $275; runners and rollway for the chemical, $255; painting of the hose wagon in the city proper and the one at East Rochester, that had not been painted since the fire there, $150; increase of Chief Engineer and his assistants' pay, $195.

The above are the reasons why this department exceeded its appropriation so much. In order to properly maintain this department, it will have to have a much larger appropriation than it had the past year.

HIGHWAYS.

This is a very hard department to handle with the amount of money we are able to appropriate for it, which was only $9,000 the last year. I hope to soon see the amount increased to $15,000. Still, I feel that your Committee on Highways have spent the money to good advantage the past year. And it seems to me for the money expended the public ought not to find much fault.

For further details I refer you to the report of the Superintendent of Streets.

CONCLUSION.

I hope that the City Council will let every petition or resolution that comes before them be referred to its proper committee before any action is taken, so that when you act you can do so intelligently, unless it proves to be absolutely necessary that action be taken at once. The past year we have not realized all our hopes or accomplished all our desires, but we have done what we thought best under existing conditions. To every member of the City Council, as well as to the officers of every department of our city government, for their valuable assistance and courtesy, I wish to extend my thanks. To the City Clerk, I wish to tender my sincere thanks for the courtesy shown me and for his willingness at all times to assist and give me facts and figures from his books, that I have troubled him for a great many times during the year.

To the City Solicitor, I am deeply grateful for the watchful care and advice so freely given at all times.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To His Honor the Mayor and City Council:

In rendering my report of the Rochester Fire Department, ending December 31, 1907, would state that there have been 23 bell calls; one at East Rochester, four at Gonic; 18 in the city. The engineers have responded to eight still alarms and two brush fires.

The amount of property involved was as follows: Valuation of buildings, $149,750; insurance on same $107,500; loss paid, $3,224.78; contents valuation of $91,963.30; insurance on same, $71,400; loss paid, $6,991.26.

There have been purchased and added to the equipment, one set of runners for hook and ladder truck, and there has been a track put in the house for same to run on; 500 feet of 2½ inch rubber lined double jacket hose, new hose reel for Torrent Company. The Ela hose wagon and Harrington hose wagon have been repainted and varnished, the hook and ladder truck has been revarnished, Cocheco house has been shingled.

I would recommend a permanently employed driver to stay at the central fire station for day and night duty, for quick attendance at fires within the city, also 1,000 feet of 2½ inch rubber lined double jacket hose, four new fire alarm boxes, which are greatly needed, one cellar pipe.

The cost of the Fire Department for the year will be found in the report of the committee on finance.

In behalf of the board of engineers, I will take this opportunity to extend our sincere thanks to all the members of the Fire Department for the promptness with which they have discharged their duties during the past year. We would also thank the members of the city government, who have rendered the department any assistance during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

H. C. HANSON,

Chief Rochester Fire Department.

December 31, 1907.

Instructions to Citizens.

1. Upon the discovery of a fire, notice should be immediately communicated to the nearest alarm box, the keys to which are in the hands of all regular police, and in boxes near each alarm box.

2. Upon the discovery of a fire, or positive information of a fire, break the glass in the key box, pull down the hook once as far as it will go (without jerking), and then let go. Shut the door, but do not try to remove the key, as it is locked in a trap lock and can only be removed by a release key, which is carried by each engineer, who will, as soon as convenient, release and return it.

3. All persons giving fire alarms are requested to remain by the box a moment, and if no clicking is heard in the box, pull again; and if you still hear no clicking, go to the nearest box, procure a key, and give an alarm from that. Remember that the firemen will come directly to the box which has been pulled, and be sure that someone stays at the box to direct them to the fire.

4. Never pull an alarm for a fire seen at a distance.
Never touch a box except to give an alarm of fire.
Give an alarm for no cause other than actual fire.
Don't give an alarm for a chimney fire.

5. Owners and occupants of buildings are requested to inform themselves of the location of alarm boxes near their property. Be sure the alarm is promptly and properly given.

Signals.

Two strokes of the bell is the all out signal.

Six strokes of the bell is for a brush fire, or a fire at a distance, where the fire department will be needed.

One stroke of the bell is the engineer's test.

The above signals are given only by the chief engineer.

Inventory of Property.

Three hose reels, two hose wagons, one hook and ladder truck, one combination chemical hook and ladder truck, one set of runners, three sleds for hose company, two sets of swing harnesses, rubber coats and hats for each company, four horse blankets, 5,500 feet of hose, five hydrant gates, ten play pipes, six three-gallon chemical extinguishers, 590 feet of ladders, one hand engine.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF WATER WORKS.

To the Committee on Water Works:

Gentlemen:—Herewith is submitted my second and the sixteenth annual report of the superintendent of water works.

During this year a new sixteen-inch main was laid from the dam at the reservoir to the city, and connections made to the distribution system at Charles and Knight streets, at which point the main was reduced to 12 inches and extended through Knight street, and another connection made to the 12-inch main on South Main street. Work was begun laying May 1st, and completed, and in full operation Oct. 5, 1907. Total length of new main is 20,072 feet, or 3.8 miles. On this line are located seven blow-off and six air valves, so that the line can be kept clear of any sediment or air which may collect in the pipes, and keep the full capacity of the line available at all times. The test given the system after the completion of the new main gave entire satisfaction to the insurance underwriters, who had representatives on the ground at the time, and the results were all that was claimed in my report of 1907. Since the new main has been in operation, water in the stand-pipe at Adams corner has been maintained at the height of the water in the reservoir, and East Rochester has had an ample supply, which is a condition that did not exist before.

A 6-inch main has been laid from the end of pipe in Linscott, Tyler and Wilson's yard across the B. & M. R. R. property and through the property of the New England Cotton Yarn Company, connecting with the 6-inch main at the north end of Allen street, and a new hydrant installed in the Cotton Yarn Company's lumber yard, giving a much needed better fire service in this locality. A new 6-inch main was also laid from Leonard street, across to the easterly end of Autumn street, and a new hydrant placed in the lumber yard of the Rochester Lumber Co.

Following is the amount of pipe laid, gates and fire hydrants set, new services laid, etc.:

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SEWERS.

To Committee on Sewers:

Gentlemen:—The annual report of the superintendent of sewers is herewith submitted.

The sewers are all in good working order and have been flushed twice during the year. New sewers were laid in East Rochester, on part of Portland, Walnut, and Highland streets, where they were much needed, and Bradley and Stewart's courts were also sewered in Rochester.

The system now covers nearly all of the thickly settled parts of Rochester and East Rochester, except that part of Portland street from Hobart avenue east, and the streets leading from it. To sewer this section properly would cost about $3,250.00.

Following is summary of the amount of construction done during the year:

FEET MAIN PIPE LAID DURING YEAR

Portland street, East Rochester, 15-inch,	433
Walnut street, East Rochester, 12-inch,	525.5

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.

To the Honorable Mayor and Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to submit herewith the report of the highway department for the year ending Dec. 31, 1907.

Among the permanent improvements we have made this year is the macadamizing of a part of the new road to East Rochester, also a part of Main and Bridge streets. This work required 800 loads of stone, that were all well rolled by the use of the steam roller. On the south end of Charles street, we had the Electric Co. raise their railway about one foot. We then raised the street by grading both sides of their track. In doing this work we had to use 900 loads of clay, and 150 loads of gravel. During the past year many of the streets about the city have been repaired with the road machine, and some highways have been entirely rebuilt in outside districts.

The following is a report more in detail of this part of our work, viz.: Streets turnpiked: Wakefield, Charles, Union, North Main, South Main, Portland and Lowell.

Outside of city: Washington street, Chestnut hill road, Rochester hill road, Milton road, part of East Rochester road, Railroad avenue (Gonic), Barrington road from Gonic.

Number of days' service with road machine in road building about the city and outskirts, 39.

There has been ten or twelve miles of bushes cut this year.

Replanked several small bridges, and built a new top on one-half of the bridge at East Rochester. We have rebuilt twenty or more culverts.

In grading sidewalks, we used cinders on the following streets:

- 1,000 feet on Jackson street,
- 400 feet on Hancock street,
- 400 feet on Spruce street,
- 200 feet on Logan street,
- 500 feet on Charles street,
- 800 feet on Portland street,
- 400 feet on Leonard street.

In doing this work we used 350 loads of cinders.

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

I herewith submit to you my report for the year ending December 31, 1907.

Owing to the large number of brown-tail moth nests on the trees this year, and the small appropriation, which was only about one-half enough to do the work, there have not been any new trees planted and but little trimming done this year, owing to lack of funds for that purpose.

C. E. GOODWIN,

Tree Warden.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES

OF THE

Rochester Public Library,

1907.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Rochester Public Library, December 28, 1907, it was voted that the report of the secretary, librarian and treasurer be presented to the city council as the annual report of the trustees for the year 1907.

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

To the Honorable Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—As required by the city ordinance, the trustees of the Rochester Public Library submit the fourteenth annual report, also the librarian's and treasurer's report, for the year ending December 31, 1907.

It is gratifying to the trustees to report a steady increase in the circulation, which is an evidence that the citizens appreciate the library. The number of volumes delivered for home reading during the year exceeds that of the year previous about eighteen hundred. We are also pleased to notice the increased interest in the juvenile department. Seventy-five dollars of the interest from the Jennie Farrington Annex fund was used the past year for the purchase of useful and inspiring books, also a series of pictures have been displayed on the bulletin board during the year. It is the purpose to make this room an ideal one for the children. It is the intention of the trustees to put forth every effort to give the citizens as good service as is received by those residing in large cities where the funds available for library work are much larger than our own.

We would call your attention to the financial report, showing the expenditures for the year—$3,197.40. If the appropriation had been sufficient, we would have printed the supplementary catalogue, but the lack of funds would not warrant it at this time. In order to keep the building in proper repair some painting will have to be done during the coming year. It is pleasing to hear the many compliments received from visitors to our library in regard to our building, and also in commendation of our system and work. In order to continue our present standard the trustees ask for an appropriation of not less than $3,000. This institution is as yet without the endowments of many other public libraries, but we hope there may be found among our public spirited citizens some who will recognize the importance of the public library to our city and add to our fund which, at present, is limited to the single bequest, $1,000, of the Jennie Farrington Annex fund. For the last three years the interest of this fund has purchased books for the juvenile department. A card is placed on each book showing that it was purchased by this fund. We hope that some one will be found who will make a bequest to the library so that the interest may be used for the purchase of books for the adult department.

The trustees take pleasure in testifying to the valuable services rendered by the librarian and the assistants.

JOHN YOUNG,

Secretary.

Rochester, N. H., December 28, 1907.

To the Trustees of the Rochester Public Library:

Gentlemen:—It has been estimated that the circulation of a library is only one third of the actual use by the community. This fact, with our records of circulation, shows a decided increase in the work of the year. At the central library there has been a gain of 1,832 in the number of books given out, and 59 at East Rochester, while the decrease of 224 at Gonic brings the net gain down to 1,667. Three hundred and eighty new borrowers have registered; making the entire number holding cards, 3,477.

Eight hundred and thirty-nine volumes have been added during the year. Of this number, two hundred and eleven were new books purchased. Forty-six were bought to replace books lost, injured, or worn out, 22 were bought as duplicates of volumes in the library, 128 purchased from the Jennie Farrington fund, 67 added by the binding of magazines which had already done duty on the reading tables and circulated several months, and 341 were gifts. The number of books lost or injured and worn out during the year, 37. Making a gain to the library of 802. The entire number being 11,168. This does not include quantities of unaccessioned pamphlets.

The children's department supplies the children of the city with useful and inspiring literature, as well as story books and the prettiest fairy tales. It is not an uncommon thing to have nearly every chair occupied during certain hours of the day. At such times we wish that the room might be shut off from the rest of the building, that the restless feet and mischievous hands need not be so carefully watched and books and other things could be talked over without disturbing older readers. The entire number of books given out from this room, 11,449. The number of readers, 4,784, a gain of 159 over last year. One hundred and twenty-eight books have been bought for the children during the year. These and, in fact, all books for this department for the last three years have been purchased from the interest of the Jennie Farrington fund. During the summer Conrad and Leslie Snow loaned their very interesting collection of moths and butterflies. These were placed in the children's room and aroused much interest among the young folks as well as the adults. The woman's club, through the efforts of Mrs. M A. Safford, again allowed the use of the Audubon bird charts.

The agencies have continued in their good work, accommodating the few books to the large number of people who want them. Eight hundred and twenty-five books have been sent to Gonic, 75 each month, and the reports show a circulation of 1,208. East Rochester has had 550 volumes in monthly installments of 50. They report 819 books given out.

The work, with the teachers needing books, and the pupils wanting help in their studies, has been no small part of the year's duties. Six books are allowed each teacher upon application, and in urgent cases extra privileges are granted, limited only by the capacity of the library and anticipated demands. Four hundred and fifty-seven volumes have been given out to teachers for school work, 100 volumes, comprising lists of required reading for high school pupils, have been reserved for their use.

The reading and reference rooms have been well patronized this year, 9,667 readers having been counted. A great amount of time has been consumed in the interesting work of finding every possible bit of information on every possible subject. Men and women, as well as boys and girls, find their way to the library for help on the subjects which interest them. Weak places are often exposed by these queries and demands.

The plan adopted this year of spending a certain sum each month for new books has proved very satisfactory. In this way the wants of the patrons have been more quickly satisfied and new books kept continually before the public. Some valuable additions to each of the classes have been purchased, and a beginning made toward duplicating the old editions of standard works.

Never in the history of the library has it received so many or more valuable gifts. Among them is the beautiful and costly book, presented by our last mayor, Hon. C. W. Bickford, which the local newspapers have so faithfully described; also a set of books given by Mrs. Ellen A. Collins, "The Masterpieces of German Art." This gives the history of German art through all periods, each of the twenty-five parts containing elegant photogravures, etchings, and wood cuts of famous pictures. In addition to these have been the collections of magazines and pamphlets donated by Prof. F. H. Bailey, Mr. O. A. Hoyt, Rev. G. L. Mason, and Mr. James B. Young, and many other acceptable gifts which you will please note in the list appended. Nothing could have given greater pleasure than has the subscription to the Library Art Club, so kindly given to the library by the Rochester Woman's Club. Not only did the club pay the subscription fee, but it intends to pay all expressage on the pictures. The following sets of pictures have been on exhibition at different times: The Alhambra, Amiens, Assisi, Canadian Pacific views, Canterbury, England, Famous pictures of all ages, Florence, German sculpture, The Hawaiian Islands, Holland and Dutch art, Pictures from the National Gallery, and New England. It has been an excellent opportunity for those who enjoy such things, and many have improved it.

Among the visitors to the library we were glad to welcome William D. Chandler, James F. Brennan and William F. Whitcher, trustees of the State library at Concord, N. H., and Arthur H. Chase, the librarian. We have also had visits from several leading librarians of this and other states. Such visitors are always an inspiration.

This year, with its trials and its pleasures, has been an extremely busy one, but the entire staff have worked together to make the library "the greatest good to the greatest number," and it gives me great pleasure to refer to the careful and painstaking work of the assistants and also to Mr. Kimball, in the unending duties which he performs so thoroughly.

Sam Walter Foss, one of the best known librarians in New England, has said: "The city that makes it easy for its people to obtain books will develop a citizenship that will be worth all the money that it costs." We sincerely hope that in the year to come every citizen in Rochester will say "not what is the least thing, but how much can we do," for the Rochester Public Library.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the trustees for their kindness and support during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

LILLIAN E. PARSHLEY.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Board of Education of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I do not apprehend that you require of me at this time any elaborate exposition of my views on educational questions in the abstract. I take it rather that I should summarize now the progress of the schools during the past year, and outline the condition that confronts us as we take up the work for 1908. I shall confine myself then strictly to a consideration of questions that may come before you here, and so I shall not weary you with fancied ills or real ones that you are powerless to remedy.

The greatest difficulty that confronts us at this time is the problem of finance. There are certain fixed items of expense attendant upon the merest keeping open of a plant to house 1,300 pupils, that have to be charged off at the outset. Any appropriation above this sum should, and if properly expended does, result in increased efficiency. That is to say, it should turn out boys and girls better equipped to become useful members of the community.

If the citizens do desire, we can run the schools for the minimum sum and turn out a finished product of minimum qualification for usefulness. If, on the other hand, they elect to give more to work with, then more is demanded of us. It is for them to determine whether or not they wish to pay for this increased efficiency. It is for you to see that they get what they pay for.

It will be my purpose to refrain from putting you in a position where you will be forced at the end of the year to ask the council for sums above the amount they shall see fit to appropriate for this department. I shall simply increase or cut down the efficiency of the school system in proportion to the sum made available.

Nevertheless it may not be out of place to mention some of the needs which make necessary this year an increased appropriation.

During the past year $400 has been expended for repairs. This is 2-10 of 1% on the valuation of the plant. Comment on this fact is superfluous. There is crying need of extensive outlays on the East Rochester and Allen buildings and on the grounds at Gonic. On Maple street and School street buildings it seems hardly advisable to expend any considerable sums, as they are in advanced stages of decrepitude and must soon be replaced by modern structures.

The present plant is rapidly becoming inadequate for the increasing number of pupils. It was found necessary to open a new room last September and next fall still another must be provided. As every one available is already occupied, one of the high school rooms must be turned over to a seventh or eighth grade and one of the laboratories fitted up as a study room for the displaced high school pupils. This will be awkward for the high school but there seems to be no alternative. It must be understood, however, that this is merely a temporary expedient and that it only postpones the building of a new school house.

Then, too, there must be an increase in the appropriation for teachers' salaries to meet the demands of the salary schedule adopted by the board. It was hardly to be expected that the adoption of this schedule would do away entirely with the lamentable experience we pass through with each year when some superintendent comes up here from Massachusetts and inveigles two or three of our teachers into that promised land of high salaries and metropolitan perquisites. The time will probably never come when we can compete successfully for teachers with Massachusetts cities. Still, the number of changes in our teaching force has been reduced considerably and I look for a still further decrease during the coming year.

In the internal workings of the school I am able to report the usual progress. We are hampered much by the necessity of each year promoting too large a percentage of pupils to accommodate the increasing numbers in the lower grades. On the other hand there is so great a rigidity in the course of study that it is possible only for a mental prodigy to complete the course in a shorter time than the allotted eight years.

There is something wrong in a system that demands that pupils of all degrees of ability take the same amount of time to do a certain amount of work. Its effect is bound to be detrimental to the brighter pupils. Elsewhere there are in use various expedients for gaining a greater elasticity in this matter. The only one feasible in our school seems to be the dividing of the year's work in certain grades, say the sixth and seventh, into two parts, the first covering the work of the grade in outline, taking up the main principles, and the second being a thorough review and amplification of the first half year's work. The brighter pupils in this way could take the first half year in the sixth grade and the second half year in the seventh, thus covering the entire grounds of the subjects taught in both grades, in one year, and entering the high school after seven years.

This scheme obviates the present necessity of missing the entire work of a grade in covering the course in less than eight years. As we do not permit children to enter the first grade until they are six years old, some expedient of this sort appears necessary, and I recommend that you investigate the matter further.

I wish to see an extension of gymnastic and other athletic exercises in the schools. Our modern system looks more particularly to the development of the mind though the old Spartan ideal of "a sound mind in a sound body" and is as worthy of emulation as it was two thousand years ago. I have been advised that athletics should have no place in the public schools. I believe that they have a place, and an important one. I have seen repeatedly instances where a sullen and indifferent boy has been made into a self-reliant, self-respecting individual, because he discovered in athletics something that even he could do well.

Once a boy becomes conscious of the least power within himself, a great stride has been made in his education. For this reason it is advisable to have the course of study broad enough to furnish to as many as possible opportunity to devote themselves to some line of work for which they are fitted by nature.

Mr. Robertson's suggestion, concerning industrial education, in his report, which I shall shortly have the honor of reading to you, is along this line. Many educators hold that it is not the function of the public schools to turn out graduates fitted by their school training for some particular employment. It seems to me that the more pupils we turn out thus fitted, the better we serve the community, and while manual training or industrial education is still a long way off in Rochester schools because of financial considerations, we may do much along this line of educating for efficiency by increasing the facilities at the command of the commercial department which has done remarkably successful work with meager equipment.

The only ungraded school in Rochester now is that at Meaderboro. It seems to me advisable that the graded salary schedule should be extended to this school, as it is an important one and certainly one of the most difficult in the city.

Our experience of the last few years with the East Rochester school seems to show that a man should be secured to teach the eighth grade there and act as principal of the building.

In the matter of the curriculum, I should like to see music and drawing restored if possible. In many school systems a simple course in ethics has been added to the studies taught in the grades. Another year, I should like to see something of this nature attempted in our own schools.

I have prepared the statistics usually appended to this report.

The enrollment at the beginning of the fall term was 618 boys and 600 girls, making a total of 1,218, an increase of 72 over last year. The increase of 1906 over 1905 was 48.

The average membership was 1,128.7. The number of tardinesses was 842 as against 598 a year ago, and the percentage of attendance 94.4 as against 94.7 in 1906. This showing is not poor when it is considered that the schools have not been closed at all during the year on account of stormy weather.

The enumeration of children, taken in September, showed 712 boys and 771 girls, a total of 1,483. These figures show a healthy increase that speaks well for the prosperity of Rochester.

In closing, I wish to express my appreciation to the teachers and janitors who have always been ready to put themselves to any inconvenience to aid me, and to you, gentlemen, who have shown me such uniform and unfailing patience and courtesy.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW JACKSON,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL.

To the Superintendent of Schools:

The close of the year 1907 finds the high school prospering in every line of work, with students and faculty putting forth united and harmonious effort to attain to that degree of excellence which shall make the school an honor to the community,—a power for uplift to all who come within its influence.

While this is true, there are various subjects of general interest worthy of consideration by the school board and citizens to which I may rightly refer in this, my third annual report. In the matter of

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS,

I believe that the city is very fortunate. A corps of teachers more devoted to their work, it would be hard to find. All have attended strictly to the task of making the school the best within their power, and scarce a day in the week has gone by when every one of them could not have been found in their rooms at the school building after school hours, helping those who needed help or attending to the varied duties arising in connection with their work, and all working harmoniously together with me.

As regards that ever-present subject of discussion,

SCHOOL DISCIPLINE,

I may say that it is ever before us, and we have made an especial effort during the term just ended to bring every member of the school to realize to the fullest extent the importance and necessity of right conduct. My theories of what constitutes good discipline and of how to gain it, have not changed, and as far as possible, the appeal to the sense of right and of personal responsibility has been used and it has had gratifying results in the vast majority of instances, so that the general conduct of the students is excellent and appreciative of the reliance placed upon them. A few there have been who would not yield to the appeal to right and school honor, and who could be made to see the seriousness of their failure to "get in line," only by the force of temporary suspension. In each case, every possible resource, except corporal punishment, was resorted to before suspension was enforced. In each case, the suspension had the desired effect, but in each case I received what seemed to me decidedly unfair treatment at the hands of the parents of the disciplined children. This leads me to say a word regarding the

PARENTS OF HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS.

The vast majority of them have been kind, considerate, helpful,—acknowledging their co-responsibility and obligation for co-operation. For this, we have been and are truly grateful. Some, however, fail to realize the problem that confronts us when we have to deal with a family of one hundred and eighty young people, each with his own peculiarity, each under different home conditions and discipline, and all varying in mental capacity and their conception of right, duty and honor. If parents can not control a child at home where they have full knowledge of his individual characteristics and tendencies, they certainly ought not to blame the school if it is unwillingly compelled to resort to severe means for bringing such students in line. Things which parents can and often do endure or tolerate at home, would ruin school discipline and cannot be tolerated. One thing is certain, we are not enemies but friends of every student that comes to us, and no student who enters the Rochester high school under the present administration, with a purpose of taking the duties of school life at all seriously and who makes an honest effort to do his work will ever have any cause for complaint of the treatment given him.

And this leads to the subject of

HOME STUDY.

The high school building is no play house. The proper completion of the course in four years is no child's play. It requires study,—a great amount of hard, serious study,—and the greater part of it must necessarily be done at home, or at the school building in the afternoon. The thoughtful parent, with his child's interest at heart, will see to it that his boy so arranges his hours of work and recreation, as to secure the proper time for his school work. If the work seems too hard and seems to take too much time, the school should not be blamed. It is part of a vast educational system. It must keep its place in that system whether its management approves or not. There is a minimum of work that must be done.

In order to keep our place on the list of approved high schools for out of town scholars, we have modified the

COURSE OF STUDY.

We have been compelled by the State Department of Public Instruction to increase the amount of work required of us as regards the number of daily recitations. Daily recitations in every subject are now demanded instead of the three and four periods per week heretofore called for in the course. This makes twenty recitation periods per week necessary for those who would complete the course in four years. The change seems to us on the whole advantageous, though it has been somewhat difficult for the students to adapt themselves to the change.

Some students find it practically impossible to complete the required work in four years. Wisdom would suggest that such students give up the desire so common to all to "graduate with the class," and take five years in the high school. This seems especially worthy of consideration by those who enter the high school at an early age, because of the shortened course below the high school. This is far better than taking a as many have done. The graduate, as a rule, has lost the incentive to work, fails to feel full sympathy in the interests of the school, expects special privileges, and makes the conditions of proper attention to school work difficult for himself and his instructors. I would, therefore, urge parents to consider this matter carefully, and insist that the thought of graduation be given up until the boy or girl shall have accomplished all that he or she intends in the high school. Plenty of time and thoroughness of work are, in the long run, the things to be desired.

FITTING FOR COLLEGE.

We have been much annoyed by the circulation of a report that our high school can not fit for college. Fitting for college is not the primary aim of the high school, which is in a great measure the "people's college." Fitting for college is, however, a secondary purpose of the high school, and that fact is in no sense overlooked by us. Our high school furnishes three specific courses of instruction,—all that a school with its limited corps of instructors can consistently offer. These are: a general course for those not intending to enter college; a college preparatory course; and a commercial course. The value of these and the results gained from them, must necessarily depend in a large measure upon the individual efforts of the students, their mental capacities, and the power of the homes back of them. The work of any school is to be judged by the results gained by students who take its work seriously and with a fixed purpose,—not by the failures of the dullard and the indifferent, whose only aim is to “pass.”

The general course furnishes four years of mental training which give a broader view of life and prepare a student for entering with better preparation upon those callings in which success is gained by experience.

That the commercial department can fulfill its purpose, is evident from the words of commendation received from the employers of those graduates who took the course with the serious purpose of fitting themselves for stenographers.

The absolute foolishness of the college preparatory rumor may be seen from the fact that the right of certification for college entrance was renewed last spring without question by the College Entrance Certificate Board of New England. The school gave full entrance certificates the past year as follows:

Dartmouth College,	2
Boston University,	2
Bates College,	2
Simmons College,	1
Tufts Dental College,	1
Normal Schools,	3

and all of these save one who returned without making an effort, are well above the required passing mark in the respective colleges. Add to these, the large number of earlier graduates in upper classes in colleges, and the school's ability becomes apparent. A college president said to me very recently: "Rochester high school has a high reputation as a fitting school."

GRADUATION VS. "FITTING."

In this connection, it may be well to add that graduation from high school nowhere means necessarily complete preparation for college. A high school diploma indicates that a student has given four or more years to high school work and has "passed" a certain required minimum of work. A student who merely "passes" is in no enviable position, for he cannot be certified to college or anything else. He alone is entitled to a college certificate or a certificate of competency for office work, who has taken his school obligation seriously and maintained a scholarship rank of 80% or upward. Parents who are seriously interested in this subject will not be satisfied with reports bearing marks below B, though C is a "passing" mark. Of course, there are many faithful, hard-working students who can not maintain a high rank. For such, we have no word of complaint or discouragement.

OUR SERIOUS PROBLEM.

The one serious problem that confronts the high school of today is, in my opinion, that of how to keep boys in school during the first two years of the course. The number who "fall by the wayside" during these two years, is not pleasant to contemplate. More than half of the boys who entered in the fall of 1905 have already given up, and the other classes seem to be losing their boys in an almost equal ratio. Latin and algebra, ancient history and English do not appeal to the average boy of fourteen summers. Yet these subjects are everywhere the standards for first year work in the high school, and we are powerless to change them. The boy on entering high school is at the age when he wants to use his hands; wants to be "doing something," and the educational world is being made to realize this fact. What can be done? The practical solution lies, I believe, in in connection with the regular school subjects. The movement in behalf of such education has already started,—started with greater force than any other move in the modern educational world. I would urge that the board of education give this subject their most serious consideration by the appointment, if necessary, of a committee to study the question in all its various phases. Our boys and girls ought to be taught to use their hands and their brains; ought to be given the opportunity of working off their animal energies to some purpose, other than annoying the school discipline. The value of industrial training would be inestimable both in its power of keeping boys from going to work at too early an age, and in fitting them to begin intelligently some industrial occupation when the time comes for them to be self-supporting, not to mention its value in overcoming the tendency of present-day education to cause young people to look with contempt upon industrial pursuits. The education of the hand with the mind is bound to come and that before many years. Should we not make it a matter of pride to be among the first to recognize this fact and prepare for it?

IN CONCLUSION.

Permit me to express my heartfelt appreciation of the kindly good will and assistance rendered me by the school board, superintendents, and citizens generally, and to assure all that while I feel that the work of the high school is such as to be a credit to the community, the faculty of the school realizes that there is always room for improvement and that we will make it our aim constantly to strive for the highest possible excellence in every school interest.

CLASS ODE.

Words by Conrad E. Snow.Music by Charles Manning.

School has ended for Ought Seven,
 Four years wended swift away,
 Years of toil, but light with leaven,
 Fun and freedom every day.

All united we have striven,
 Studied, worked, and played our pranks,
 Cheered the respites to us given;
 Now to break our friendly ranks.

Here tonight we stand together,
 Singing this our parting ode,
 Knowing not what storms to weather,
 Rise, what reapings we have sowed.

Here our common path divideth
 Into one and thirty ways,
 Each his future course decideth
 Where he studies, toils, or strays.

Listen to this call, Ought Seven,
 Righting wrong, live pure, speak true,
 Ever win the love of heaven,
 Where you are or what you do.

Grieving for Ought Seven's parting,
 For the song that's nearly done,
 Joyous o'er the happy starting
 Of the life that is to come.
